Subject: A heads-up - two PRP files to be forwarded soon.

We have received two very large files from our contractor. The first is the formatted document. The second is a mark-up of edits that Battelle's proofreader found and made to the document as part of the formatting process.

It will be another day until they finish making the document compliant with disabilities. So, we have about 24 hours to do a very thorough review of the document and propose any final edits, if desired.
